lead Mosters Dissatisfied with the Assoelation's Method of Handling Camer-Berkeley and D. La Saile Pootball Teams Meet Again on Tuesday-Notes.

The defeat of the Berkeley School football team by the De La Salle Institute team last Monday was a great surprise to the youngsters of the local as well as Long Island interschoastic leagues. For the past nineteen years Borkeley School has figured in the champion-ship series of the local association, and has had rather easy time in carrying off the honors, but this year it has found De La Salle Institute a formidable obstacle. The defeat does not put Berkeley School out of the race, but instead makes the series in the first section a tie, and as the two teams will have to meet again, it is nothing more than a toss-up as to who will win. The deciding game will take place next Tuesday, and the management should see that the crowd is not permitted to interfere with the players.

It is hard to recall a single scholastic football or baseball game played at Berkeley Oval with-in the past year or so at which the spectators kept within the space allotted to them and refrained from dashing over the ropes and interfering with the players. Last Monday, during the De La Salle-Berkeley game, immediately rush swarmed out of the grand stand and over ropes into the field, and interfered so with the players that the game had to be stopped several times. The late: and darker the afteroon grew, the closer the crowd closed in upon the contesting teams, until the rooters did nore harm by ove.running the field than all their cheering could counteract.

Concerted school cries do very little good toward urging a team to victory; in fact, they re the cause of a good deal of fumbling, as the signals are very often not heard on account of the noise. Both teams were also very much hampered in this way last Monday. Police protection is what is wanted at Berkeley Oval, and enough to keep the crowd within bounds.

The question of the wisdom of allowing the students to control, and manage athletics is causing the head masters of the leading schools in and about New York much serious thought. The result of the control of affairs by the stuat all unlikely that in a short time a lengue will be formed by three or four of the leading schools, and this league will virtually control athletics. The league was to have been organized last season, but somehow the scheme fell through. The idea is to select from the faculcharge and formulate and adopt rules and reg ulations. The extent of the management of affairs by the students will be confined to captains of the various teams, whose authority is limited to the conduct and development of those under them. Every agreement to enter a team for a contest must be carried out, and failure to do so will mean expulsion from the league. The selection of properly qualified officials to carry out all the games will also reofficials to carry out all the games will also receive attention. The football sames of the local interscholastic series have this year degenerated almost into a farce, owing to the interpretence of the officials selected by the association, and the head masters of the various schools see the imperative need of taking this appointing power out of the hands of the students and controlling it themselves.

There is every possible chance of a game being arranged between the winner of the local series and the champion team of the Long Island Interscholastic League for the inter-city champlonship.

land Interscholastic League for the inter-city championship.

As the football season draws to a close the interscholastic track athletes are getting into shape. Barnard, Berkeley, De La Salie, Cutler, Trinity, and Columbia grammar schools have already started in training, and the other schools will soon follow-suit. If reports can be believed, some very fast time has already been made by the youngsters in the short sprints and over the scieks. Three or four dark horses are at work with shot and hammer, and it it stated on very good authority that a heavyweight in one of the schools has put the shot thirty-nine feet. So far Barnard seems to have the strongest sagregation of athletes, but the season is yet early, and the championshie by no means won. The new acquisitions to the association are reported to have several good things up their sleeves to be sprung at the proper time.

The indications are that the coming beschall

The indications are that the coming baseball rad track athletic season at Tripity School will be indications are that the coming baseball rad track athletic season at Tripity School will be the most successful in the history of the school. The school hopes to make a batter showing in baseball this year than last season. Last year the team was handicapped by the need of a good pitcher and a catcher, and it looks as if this year these positions will be well filled. S. McClave will try to strengthen the team in the pitching department. He is a well-built and muscular lad, and has done good work in the lox for other nines. Other probable candidates for the team are:

Mallet, Lane, O'Rourks, Robinson, R. McClave, Mallet, Lane, O'Rourks, Robinson, R. McClave, Kirkby, Mitchell, O. Faves, Siewart, Simons, R. P. Kirkby, Mitchell, O. Faves, Siewart, Simons, R

Jackson, Milliank, Graven, Butler, Plunte, Mapes, Mills, Bonsali, and D. Browne.

In track athletics the prospects are fairly bright. Page is counted on to get a place in the weights. Simons is running very fast, and should be heard of in the prints. O'Rourke will try for the hurdles and half-mile run, and Kirkby should give a good account of himself in the half and one-mile runs. The candidates who will go in training for the track tesm are as follows:

Delgato, Mills, Stewart, S. McClave, Mithank, Megrue, R. McLlave, Myers, Mapes, Mitchell, Taylor, and Biunte.

The annual gymnasium games of the Trinity School Athletic Association will be held to-morrow. From the entries already sent in they bid fair to be a great sine ess. The games are held with the object of promoting interest in track athletics.

The athletic association of the De I.a Salle institute held a meeting last week and made arrangements for the crining season in track athletics and baseball. The institute made a very good showing in athletics last year, considering the small number of athletes in the field, and in haseball they carried off second honors. This year the institute hones to be on the top of the heap when the camnaign ends. Manning and D. Brennan will look after the middle and distance runs. Coulan will be seen in the hurdles and sorthis and expects to make as good a showing as did A. Beers in the former event. The shot and hammer will bring out Miller, Corrigan, and Dwyer, three heavy weights. Sione and McCabe will rid, in the bleycle events, De Laney will high jump and Ti ford, will again try broad jump.

The haseball outlook is very en souraging. Of last year's team Bruni, Lenans, Hawkes, and Jerdan have returned. These with some new men should make a strong nine. Chess will be a favorite pastime this winter, and although Le Bair the crack of last season, is not back Murphy, Stokes, Huni, and Levery are able to hold their own.

The football season at Cutler School has not been a very successful one. In baseball and track athletics the school hopes to place strong teams in the field. No candidates have been selected as yet but the material on hand is promising.

Barnard School made a gallant fight for track honors last year, but was handicapped in not having any field sthictes. This year, however, the school will be represented by clever performers in all the field events, and with Hipple. Washburn, and Storms in the rack events, the combination will take some beating.

Dwight School athletes are fast rounding into condition and will take an active part in all the proceedings of the coming season. Regarding football. De Witt S. Adler writes as

The Dwight School football team journeyed to Berkeley Oval last Tuesday to play Cutter School the protested game of Nov. 5. The lowight boys, after waiting some time for the Cutter team, with the consent of the referre kloked the ball down the field for a touchdown, and then a real was bricked. This gives the game to Dwight School by default and also ascond place in the second section. The correction offered by Hamilton Institute was entirely inaccurate. The Dwight-Hamilton game was won by Dwight by the score of 36 to 8, as published in The SUS.

erscholastic A. A. training will begin for track and beschall teams in a short time. Much interest is being manifested in the handball and basketball tournaments, which will take shock the near future. Nearly all the schools vill enter teams, and good games should result. The Adelphi Academy boys have been playing handball for a number of year, and are looked upon as having the best show for the honors. With the exception of two rames the football season is practically over, and the honors go to St. Paul School. The teams have all made a good showing, and as most of the boys have another year at their respective schools, the teams next year will be strong ones. The football team of the Fingry School of Elizabeth has been playing in good form thus far. The season has been one of the most successful in the history of the school, and the leam work of the boys has been far above the standard. After the game with Barnard School the whole team was shaken unand from them on retter ball was played. The team is fortunate in having in its head master "Pa" Corbin, the old raie centre, who has been of great assistance to the team. The star of the track team is C. A. Sulzer, who is looked to by his schoolmates to carry off the honors in the school ast season from the flow-yard line, defeating Weters each time. He ran second in the 220-yard Metropolitan championships, and won many races during the summer. Manvel, who is captain of the team, will be seen in either the 440-yard run or mile. He had great success in the open games held in this vicinity last season, defeating such cracks as Hipple and Bedford. In Myers and Gales the school has two young runners of merit, who need only a few hars races to bring them up to the tront mark. Myers is only 15 years of age, but crossed the tape in a quarter in 57 seconds last tune. Gales is a distance runner of promise. The school is particularly strong in the field events.

CHESS MASTERS AT MOSCOW. The Fifth Game of the Lasker-Steinita

Moscow, Nov. 21.- Steinitz and Lasker played the fifth game in this city yesterday, and after forty-five moves a draw resulted. The veteran selected a Queen's Gambit, which Lasker declined to accept in the following manner: 2 P-K 3; 3, Kt-Q B 3, Kt-K B 3; 4, B-Kt 5, B-K 2; 5, Kt-K B 3, Q Kt-Q 2; 6, Q R-B, castles; 7, P-K 3, P-Q Kt 3; 8, P x P, P x P, The game became quite complicated, and although Steinitz seemed to have an advantage at one time, he finally had to be satisfied with a draw. The result of the match now stands:

By an error in the transmission of Thursday's despatch Steinitz was credited with winning the fourth game, which was stated to have been played on last Tuesday. The fact is the fourth game was played on Thursday, and not the fifth, as reported.

The score of the second game between Lasker and Steinitz at Moscow arrived here vesterday. The London Standard has the following to say about the play:

"The second game in the Lasker-Steinitz match was a Ruy Lopez, in which Steinitz adhered to his newly adopted foster child, the 3...B-B-4 defence. It is flogging a dead horse to repeat that it cannot be good policy to adopt variations of doubtful merit, to use a mild expression, knowing that the opponent will be thoroughly prepared for them. In this instance Steinitz had as good a game as he might have expected to obtain, Lasker simply confining himself to strategical disposition of his forces. After having created a weak spot in the centre, he proposed an exchange of queens, attacked the central pawns, and after Steinitz had brought over his king to the defence of his weak spot, he dislodged the knight at Kt 3 by sarricing a pawn, and then forced the game by the temporary sarrifice of a knight, which led to a forced mate, after 30... K. Q.3. The game is one of Lasker's finest specimens."

The score follows:

The London Field says:

"As soon as the extraordinary demand for bleycles which has prevailed throughout the present year has been fully satisfied, and the requirements of next senson are anticlosted, as they most probably will be by the creation of large stocks during the coming winter, the cost of machines is likely to be more closely criticised by prospective purchasers than it has been in the past. It is therefore doubtful whether the present high prices will be maintained, except for the very best productions. It is not too much to say that many thousands of bicycles of secon, rate and roor construction have neen sold this year at prices for beyond their value. There has been little difficulty in finding a market for any class of machine, especially those designed for Indies' use, for the majority of purchasers have no discrimination, and cannot tell a good article from a bad one. The temptation, therefore, to makers of no repute or standing to foist area the public showily finished machines has been well nigh irresistible, and has, we fear, been largely yielded to. Though comparatively low in price, such hieycles are more expensive in the long ron than those of costly construction, for not only will they stand far less work while being heavier and more difficult to propel, but they are much more liable to break down and cause accidents to the riders. Again, if the owners wish to sell them at a future time and obtain machines of improved construction, they command no alequate price, as the value of second-hand bleycles depends largely upon the usure and trade marks they bear."
